

This guide explains how to enable SMTP Authentication for Outlook 2007.

1. Open Outlook 2007
2. Go to the Tools menu and select Account Settings
3. Verify that the E-mail tab is selected.
4. Click on your account to highlight it, and click on the Change icon above it.
5. Under the Server Information section, in the box marked Outgoing mail server (SMTP) change it to mail.velocitynet.com.au
6. Click the button More Settings... in the lower right-hand corner.
7. Click on the tab "Outgoing Server".
8. Click the check box "My outgoing server (SMTP) requires authentication" and verify that the circle-box "Use same settings as my incoming mail server" is selected.
9. Click OK to close the Internet Email Settings box.
10. IMPORTANT: Do NOT use the "Test Account Setting..." button to test the settings. This will fail.
11. Click the Finish button to close the Internet E-mail Settings box. Click the
12. Close button to close the Account Settings box.

SMTP authentication has now been enabled.